

Miller House

You stay in the calm and beautifully appointed surroundings of the extensive 60 sqm, sun filled Kaipo suite, with views over the garden and surrounding farmland. This accommodation comprises the very large master bedroom with ensuite, and a private dining room, both these open to the verandahs with direct access to the garden.

An extensive continental breakfast is included with your stay and served in your private dining room. With various options including a range of cereals, breads, pastries available; and cold meats and cheeses by prior request.

At Miller House your booking ensures privacy. A second (queen) West Verandah bedroom is only available to your additional guests, if required. This room also opens through french doors on to the sunny verandah.

The house was built in 1895 by James Miller, has over 5 hectares (12 acres) of grounds and guests can enjoy walking in the gardens, or wandering through the 1.5 hectares of native bush with its spring fed stream, native birds and beautiful ancient trees.

Croquet and Petanque can be set up on the old tennis court, or there is a large range of local attractions and activities, good bike rides, surfing at Port Waikato, caving at Nikau Caves, motorsport at Pukekohe just to mention a few.

The property has beef cattle, frizzle bantams, pheasants. We suffer the usual measure of rabbits, for which Baz the cat is employed, (he "works cheap" and he won't bother you, so your total privacy is assured).
